Dear Commissioner Henney:

I'm writing to you about the issue of genetically engineered foods. I want these foods tested and labeled, and a moratorium imposed on all new GE foods until proven safe.

I am a severe allergy sufferer. I and many other people like me are in danger of unlabeled, untested foods. Not only do new studies show that GE foods can and probably are creating new toxins, antibiotic resistance and allergic reactions, but I could unknowingly consume genes from other species, which could be very dangerous for someone like me.

Finally, organic foods, like the ones I consume as the staple of my diet, are put at risk from GE agriculture, as "genetic drift" contaminates pure, organic crops.

Please put a moratorium on genetically engineered foods immediately.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Elayne Taylor
